

Author: Anna Juryk, Anna Wysocka-Bar

Title: Prawa człowieka a prawo prywatne międzynarodowe / Human Rights and Private International Law

Source: Kwartalnik Prawa Prywatnego (“Quarterly of Private Law”)

Year: 2021, vol. XXX, number 2, pages: 181-225

Keywords: human rights, private international law, jurisdiction, applicable law, recognition of judgements

Discipline: Private Law

Language: Polish

Document Type: Article

Publication order reference:

1. Anna Juryk: Cracow University of Economics [anna.juryk@uek.krakow.pl]

2. Anna Wysocka-Bar: Jagiellonian University Cracow [anna.wysocka@uj.edu.pl]

Abstract:

The article is a comprehensive overview of the draft resolution of the Institute of International Law (Institut de Droit International), as it was presented at the 2019 session in the Hague, the Netherlands. The article follows the structure of the resolution and therefore it provides a commentary on human rights: their concept and evolution, human rights and private law, interpretation, priority, immunity from jurisdiction, jurisdictional rules, international civil procedure and judicial cooperation, conflict of law rules – general principles, conflict of law rules – specific rules, as well as the recognition and enforcement of foreign judgements. The article is supplemented by the Polish translation of the resolution.