

27th CRACOW METHODOLOGICAL CONFERENCE

PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE AND ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

Thursday, May 29, 2025

Polish Academy of Arts and Sciences, The Small Hall (Mała Aula), Sławkowska 17, Kraków

8:55-9:00      Wojciech P. Grygiel      A word of welcome

Session I

9:00-9:45      Jerzy Mycka      How artificial is human intelligence?
9:45-10:30      Jan Szyller      Beyond human and literalism: metaphor as a bridge of understanding in Age of AI and posthumanism

Session II

10:30-11.00 coffee break

11:00-11:45      Wojciech P. Grygiel      Inventing Shared Epistemology Together: A Case Study in Human–AI Co-Creation
11:45-12:30      Agnieszka M. Schlichtinger      A Categorical Framework for Evaluating Continuity in Artificial Intelligence Systems

12:30-15.00 lunch break

Session III

15:00-15:45      Bartosz Radomski      Help! My LLM is self-adapting! Epistemic risks in delegating to adaptive AI
15:45-16:30      Hans-Joachim Greif      Non-human Epistemic Agents and the Bounds of Cognition
16:30-16:45      Wojciech P. Grygiel      Concluding remarks

---

Conference organizers:

The Philosophy of Nature, Faculty of Philosophy, The Pontifical University of John Paul II, Kraków
Copernicus Center for Interdisciplinary Studies, Kraków